Victoria says sorry for her Xmas claim

VICTORIA Derbyshire has apologised for saying she would break the "rule of six" over Christmas.

In an interview with the Radio Times, the BBC presenter said that she would defy the restriction if it is still in place to have her family of seven under one roof over the festive period.

Victoria (above), 52, whose Bafta-winning current affairs show was axed in March amid cuts, said she felt irresponsible saying that, but that she thought many others felt the same way.

She added: "We need to see my elderly mum and my husband's elderly dad. We just do."

Yesterday, she tweeted to apologise for the comments, saying she was "totally wrong".

She said: "I was totally wrong to say it and I'm sorry. We'll of course continue to follow whatever rules are in place on Dec 25th."

France plea as Arabs kick off

FRANCE has called on Arab nations to end "baseless" calls for a boycott of its goods – after French President Emmanuel Macron's defence of the right to show cartoons of the Prophet Muhammad.

French products have been covered or removed from some shops in Kuwait, Qatar and Jordan, while in Saudi Arabia a hashtag calling for the boycott of French retailer Carrefour has been trending on social media.

Meanwhile, there have also been protests in Bangladesh, Libya, Syria and Iraq.

VERY NICE!

KAZAKHSTAN'S tourism board has adopted Borat catchphrase "very nice" in its new advertising campaign.

The phrase is used by the film character Borat, a fictional journalist from Kazakhstan.

The first Borat film caused outrage in the country, and authorities threatened to sue creator Sacha Baron Cohen.

But its tourism board has now embraced Borat as a perfect marketing tool – particularly as a second film featuring him has just been released.

In a number of short adverts that highlight the country's scenery and culture people use Borat's catchphrase "very nice".

"Kazakhstan's nature is very nice. Its food is very nice. And its people, despite Borat's jokes to the contrary, are some of the nicest in the world," Kairat Sadvakassov, deputy chairman of Kazakh Tourism, said in a statement.

The tourism board were persuaded to use the catchphrase by American Dennis Keen and his friend Yermek Utemissov. They pitched the idea and produced the advertisements.

The response from social media users has been positive with many saying it's a great way to capitalise on the film.

One said: "Well done. Great way to take the publicity created by a comedian and turn it to a positive message."

IT'S GRIM UP NORTH!

Boris launches charm offensive over COVID-19 revolt by northern Tory MPs

BORIS Johnson is facing the biggest challenge to his leadership since the general election after a group of 50 Tory MPs demanded a lockdown exit strategy.

The PM's ministers launched a desperate charm offensive to quell the rebellion.

The newly-formed Northern Research Group of Conservative backbenchers wrote to Mr Johnson to warn that the coronavirus crisis is threatening his pledge to "level-up" the country and could "send the North into reverse".

The group, led by former Northern Powerhouse minister Jake Berry, wants the Prime Minister to publish a "clear road map" for Tier Three areas to leave lockdown as well as an economic recovery plan for the North of England.

By ROY DURRIDGE

news@sundaytimesonline.co.uk

Mr Berry insisted the letter does not represent a "revolt" against the PM but it will have spooked Number 10 because many of the disillusioned MPs are from Red Wall seats which propelled Mr Johnson to victory last December.

Champions

He said the Government needed to do a better job of providing the public with "easily digestible" data to show how the fight against COVID-19 is progressing in order to better incentivise people to stick to the rules.

The letter prompted a charm offensive from the Business Minister Nadhim Zahawi as he praised the group's MPs for acting as "champions for their area".

It came as approximately eight million people in England face living under the toughest restrictions by the end of the week after officials confirmed that four separate parts of Nottinghamshire will be thrust into a Tier Three lockdown from midnight, following three days of crunch talks with the Government.

Officials have agreed to adopt the draconian measures in Nottingham City, Gedling, Broxtowe and Rushcliffe in an attempt to drive down the rate of transmission.

It will mean all pubs and bars have to close unless they serve meals, while people are banned from mixing with anyone they don't live with indoors or in private gardens.

Ministers finally confirmed yesterday that Warrington will also be subject to the strictest measures.

A North-South divide has emerged as a result of the Government's coronavirus tier system, as all areas under the strictest restrictions are in the North and Midlands.

As well as demanding a "road map" out of lockdown, the Northern Research Group has also urged the Government to prioritise key infrastructure projects and to accelerate job creation in the region.

Mr Berry dismissed claims of a Tory rebellion in a radio interview, saying: "It's not a revolt, I don't know how it can be a revolt for northern MPs to write to the Prime Minister to ask to work with him on delivering on his exciting manifesto that he has a mandate for from December 2019."

"We are asking for the Government to reaffirm its commitment to stimulate the north by bringing forward a northern growth strategy."

"The north can be the leaders in building back better and that's what we're seeking."

GROWTH FOR IT: Tory MP Jake Berry wants a plan from PM Boris

Scientists deal blow to hopes of UK getting herd immunity

HOPES the population will become immune to COVID-19 have been dashed by research showing antibodies fall rapidly after recovering from the disease.

So-called herd immunity has been proposed by some scientists as a better alternative to lockdowns in tackling the virus pandemic.

It would require around 50-60 per cent of the population to have protection against the bug so it could no longer transmit efficiently.

However, a major UK study has found that rather than building immunity over time, the number of people with antibodies has fallen by 26 per cent since lockdown was eased over the summer.

Researchers from Imperial College London screened 365,000 people over three rounds of testing between June and September.

Results of the study showed that six per cent of people had antibodies to the virus when lockdown was eased in late June and early July.

But by the start of the second wave last month, this dropped to just four per cent.

Prof Helen Ward, one of the researchers, said the results suggest that herd immunity is unachievable, adding: "It's not something you can use as a strategy for infection control."

Huge jump in COVID deaths

WEEKLY deaths linked to coronavirus have risen in England and Wales for the sixth week in a row – with a jump of 53 per cent on last week, according to the Office for National Statistics.

A total of 670 deaths were registered in the week ending October 16 with COVID-19 mentioned on the death certificate, compared with 438 the week before.

It is the highest number of registered deaths involving coronavirus since the week ending June 19.

The North West had 229 COVID-19 deaths – the highest number for the region since the week ending June 5. The North East, Yorkshire and the Humber also registered record increases in deaths.

ITALIANS UP IN ARMS AT NEW CURBS

PROTESTERS have filled streets across Italy over new restrictions to curb the country's second wave of coronavirus.

Clashes were reported in the northern cities of Milan and Turin, where petrol bombs were thrown at the police.

In Milan tear gas was used to disperse protesters, and thousands of people gathered in the centre of Naples.

The demonstrations began soon after the government's order to close restaurants, bars, gyms and cinemas came into effect at 6pm local time. Many regions have also imposed night-time curfews.

The violence was blamed on extremist agitators and police said 28 people had been arrested in Milan alone.

Protests took place in about a dozen other cities, including Rome, Genoa, Palermo and Trieste. Taxi drivers occupied a central square in Turin while restaurant owners beat pots and pans in the centre of Cremona.

In Naples, a big crowd called on the regional governor to resign.

STUNNING Rhian Sudden has become the latest beauty to fall foul of the curse of "below the line" MailOnline trolls.

The busty beauty had been speaking to the website about her legendary freckles – and even posed for some glamorous lingerie shots.

But among messages of support were some crude comments about the Manchester-based star, 34, who is married to former Coronation Street actor Oliver Mellor.

Phillip Biggins, from London, wrote: "I would love to push my ear against the bathroom door and listen as she goes for a lovely big BM."

A BM is porn speak for "bowel movement" – meaning Mr Biggins was wishing to hear her having a number two.

Thug turkey's fowl play is over

A NOTORIOUSLY "fowl" turkey which attacked people for months has been captured by a wildlife expert dressed as an old lady!

Nicknamed Gerald, the belligerent bird ruffled the feathers of residents of Oakland, California, by pouncing on visitors to the Morcom Rose Garden.

Officials were forced to close the park in June, out of concern for public safety, after dozens of complaints to Oakland Animal Services about the aggressive gobbler.

Gerald was finally caught by Rebecca Dmytryk, director of Wildlife Emergency Services, who disguised herself as a frail, elderly woman and baited the bird with blueberries, kibble and sunflower seeds.

Gerald was then released onto wild land.

Weinstein hit with new sex act accusation

A NEW accuser has filed a complaint against convicted sex offender Harvey Weinstein.

A 61-year-old woman filed a complaint with the NYPD Special Victims Division, alleging that in 1995 or 1996, while at a Manhattan nightclub with Weinstein, he forced her to perform oral sex on him.

Detectives are now investigating the accusation.

Weinstein (above) is serving a 23-year sentence in New York for his conviction on third-degree rape and forcible sexual assault of two women.

Earlier this month, the disgraced movie producer was hit with six new counts of forcible sexual assault.

The new charges stem from alleged incidents involving two women and adds three felony counts each of forcible rape and forcible oral copulation.

Married cop cleared of murdering his mistress of 10 years

A MARRIED police officer has been acquitted of murdering his long-term lover after she revealed their affair to his wife.

A jury took just under three hours to find "man whore" Timothy Brehmer, 41, not guilty of the murder of mother-of-two Claire Parry.

At Salsbury Crown Court, Brehmer previously admitted the manslaughter of the married nurse who he'd been having an affair with for more than 10 years.

Ms Parry died during a "kerfuffle" in his car at the car park of the Horns Inn in West Parley, Dorset, on May 9.

While the pair were in the car, Mrs Parry took Brehmer's phone and sent a text to his wife saying: "I am cheating on you."

Brehmer claimed she accidentally suffered the fatal injury while trying to push her out of the car.

BOTH-WAYS BOBBY 'USED POLICE COLLEGE FOR SEX ROMPS' Panel hears PC booked dorm rooms for trysts with women and men

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

A MARRIED cop used police dorms for trysts with a female student officer and invited a male member of the public back there for sex as well, a misconduct panel has heard.

Former PC James Empett had one sexual relationship with a trainee officer he was tutoring and tried to start another with a second, who was a man, but was knocked back, the hearing was told.

It also heard he was accused of inviting a different man onto Kent Police property for a romantic rendezvous, but his would-be lover ended up cancelling.

When his affairs got out and an investigation began, the "manipulative" ex-cop tried to cover his tracks by persuading the trainee to delete evidence of their relationship and also lied about a raunchy photo she sent him.

Pub

He denied anything sexual had happened when first questioned as part of the investigation and later gave no comment in interviews, the panel heard.

The hearing is tasked with deciding whether PC Empett, who is no longer part of the force, had committed gross misconduct by breaching the standards of professional behaviour.

The panel heard that a student officer – referred to only as PC N – had joined Kent Police College in Maidstone, Kent, in January 2019.

PC Empett was one of her tutors. Matthew Chidley, presenting the evidence, told the panel the relationship had lasted for several months and PC N had been booking a room at "the hostel block", in order for the pair to have sex.

The relationship was discovered by two of her fellow trainee officers after a night out at a pub, and later by another officer, who PC N confided in.

FRENCH KISS: Empett

Mr Chidley explained how a group had gone to a village pub, with PC Empett joining them later.

One of the student constables became suspicious and noticed the pair had their arms around each other.

When the second student constable – referred to as PC R – asked them if they were "carrying on", they laughed and PC Empett brazenly kissed PC N on the temple.

When the group returned to college premises adjoining the force headquarters, the pair started "French kissing" in a "passionate way" in front of PC R.

They later went to a room in the accommodation block and had sex, PC R said.

Cheat

The panel heard how, only the day before, PC Empett had also "expressed an interest" in PC R, a male student.

When PC R told PC Empett he would not cheat on his partner, PC Empett first said "he knew" and later said: "I like you more than I should."

Summing up, Mr Chidley said PC Empett's actions had demonstrated a clear disregard for the welfare of pupils under his care and raised serious questions about his honesty, integrity and objectivity.

PC Empett was aware of the hearing but did not want to take part in the proceedings.

Fluffy animals gambling ad 'irresponsible'

REGULATORS have ordered an "irresponsible" gambling advert featuring fluffy animals to be taken down after a complaint about it appealing to children.

The Advertising Standards Agency (ASA) ruled that an ad posted by Gala Spins on Facebook, showing five toy animals, breached guidelines about betting companies targeting under-18s.

The paid-for Facebook post was on a page which only adult users can view. But since users submit their own age, ASA deemed this insufficient protection for children.

The ASA ruled that the video caption reading "it's a rollercoaster of cuteness" and a video showing "fluffy favourite" toy animals made the advert "likely to appeal to under 18's" and was therefore "irresponsible".

COUNCIL CHIEFS PROBE NUDE WOMAN'S ARSE

REAR ACTION: Shower poster is being assessed

STUFFY council chiefs have launched an investigation into a life-sized poster of a naked woman showering.

The poster – featuring a pretty lady's bare arse – was put on the side of a bathroom store on Arnot Hill Road in Arnold, Notts, two weeks ago. Gedling Borough Council said it had received a complaint about the poster and had reported it to the Advertising Standards Authority (ASA).

Rude

But the owner of the shop, Sam Collins, said the image was no worse than what could be seen on TV or social media.

And he insisted the poster was "quite harmless fun". "It's just a lady taking a shower," he said. "There's nothing rude and she's not really baring anything."

By GRACE HOOPER

"Seeing how stressful life is at the moment, we thought people could laugh and smile about it."

Mr Collins said the council had asked him to take the poster down while the planning team looked into it – but he hoped to leave it up.

Elizabeth Clarke, 51, said: "That's just not appropriate."

"I suppose you can't see anything, but there's kids walking past."

"Teenagers have enough to deal with with body image as it is."

However, others said they were not offended.

Pensioner Jacquelyn Lee, 76, said: "It's a show-stopper, isn't it?"

"I can just see people driving past not looking at the lights."

"But it doesn't offend me – I just wish I looked like that."

A spokesman for the council confirmed it had received a complaint and its planning team was investigating.

A spokesman for the ASA said it was assessing the poster, and if it was found to have broken rules, it could ask for it to be taken down.

Hookers okay to do non-sexual business

HOOKERS from Nevada's famous legal brothels – laid off because of the pandemic – will now be allowed to provide non-sexual escort services.

The Lyon County Board of Commissioners unanimously approved the ordinance for the four brothels operating in the US county.

Under the new decree, sex workers can meet with customers offsite for as long as the brothels remain closed.

The brothel closures have left more than 500 people unemployed, brothel owner Suzette Cole told the board.

Lyon County Manager Jeffery Page said the local economy had taken a hit with fewer people working amid the closures, but the new escort services will allow brothels to stay in business and provide income.

Oreo saving biccies from catastrophe

THE threat of asteroids striking the Earth and causing a catastrophe has inspired groups to build bunkers to protect survivors, plants and animals.

Now, the makers of Oreo biscuits have ensured the popular snack will live past any possible asteroid strikes.

In a video published on its YouTube page, Oreo says it was inspired by the Global Seed Vault in Svalbard, Norway, designed and built to withstand both natural and manmade disasters.

According to Oreo's video, the vault was also created specifically in regards to Asteroid 2018VP1, which has a slight chance of hitting Earth's atmosphere on November 2.

Oreo explained the vault and how it's protecting Oreos on its Twitter account.

According to one post, "Each cookie pack is wrapped in protective Mylar which can keep our cookies safe from temperatures of -80°F to 300°F."

Santa vaccine plan scrapped

PLANS to offer Santa Claus early access to a coronavirus vaccine have been scrapped.

The festive collaboration was part of a £192m U.S. government campaign to get celebrity endorsements of vaccinations once they are approved, but health authorities have now ditched the idea.

Santa Claus performers, women playing Mrs Claus and elves would have been eligible for early jabs under the now-axed plan.

Ric Erwin, chairman of the Fraternal Order of Real Bearded Santas, said it was "extremely disappointing", adding: "This was our greatest hope for Christmas 2020, and now it looks like it won't happen."

The Department of Health and Human Services confirmed the existence of the Santa plan.

CROSS-DRESS SERIAL KILLER WANTS SEX CHANGE ON THE NHS

A MURDERER:
Photo showed Arthurell in fiancee's dress

A CROSS-DRESSING triple killer who has only just been freed from jail wants a taxpayer-funded sex change.

And parole authorities insist they are powerless to prevent the procedure.

Reginald Arthurell, 75, served 23 years of a 24-year sentence for the 1997 murder of his fiancée Venet Mulhall, 54, in Coonabarabran, a town in northern New South Wales, Australia.

The former rodeo worker was living with Ms Mulhall – who had helped him secure parole following earlier killings – when he bludgeoned her to death with a piece of wood.

Disgusting

Photos found at the scene showed Arthurell posing in one of Ms Mulhall's dresses.

Ms Mulhall's brother, Paul Quinn, hit out at the revelation Arthurell will be free to have the operation on his release.

The cost of the procedure will be largely covered by Medicare – Australia's version of the NHS – and requires only a doctor's referral.

"It's disgusting to think this man will be out and trying to use taxpayers' money to have a sex change," Mr Quinn raged.

"He is dangerous no matter how old he is and even if he was a woman."

The NSW State Parole Authority said there is nothing it can do to prevent the convicted murderer from having the surgery.

Arthurell had been previously jailed for the manslaughter of naval officer Ross Browning in the Northern Territory in 1981 and stepfather Thomas Thornton in Sydney in May 1974.

New South Wales Attorney-General Mark Speakman sought legal advice on applying for a continuing detention order to keep Arthurell behind bars.

But that failed and Arthurell was granted parole last week.

FREED:

Mr Quinn found his sister's body after Arthurell's brutal attack and wrote a book titled 'In the Hands of Evil' about his sister's life and death.

"As I climbed through the window, I knew from the foul smell that I was entering a horrendous situation and that I was looking for a decomposing body," Mr Quinn wrote.

"As the edge of the door passed through my gaze, I could see what I at first thought was a black plastic garbage bag, propped up against the door jam."

Revenge porn girl sues vicar

A TEEN is suing a VICAR after someone posted revenge porn of her from the cleric's computer.

The high school student sued pastor Jason B. Lane and his church after someone blackmailed her over naked pictures using a computer in his home.

When she didn't give in to the demand, doctored nude photos of the her were sent to classmates, causing her "unbearable shame and embarrassment."

The lawsuit came after cops declined to bring criminal charges against the pastor as detectives weren't able to determine who among the users of the IP address sent the messages and photos.

However, Lane's son, Eli, was questioned by police in Palmetto, Florida.

COP HID CAMERA TO SPY ON TEEN

A PERVERT cop has been arrested for using hidden cameras to spy on a teenage girl.

Robert Roady (below), 48, was nicked for allegedly recording the 14-year-old in "compromising positions" while she was alone in her bedroom.

He was fingered after cops received a report that hidden cameras were found in the bedroom of the girl, who was known to the suspect.

Roady caved under pressure and owned up to his vile Peeping Tom actions.

However, further investigation by cops found that there were two more teenage victims of his hidden cameras.

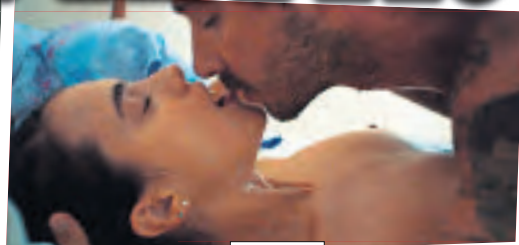

Roady got slammed with numerous charges, including nine counts of invasion of personal privacy.

"Additional charges are being considered pending further investigation," the sheriff's office in Roseburg, Oregon said in a statement.

Transformers star in X-rated flick with Hollywood stunna

THE daughter of Four Weddings and a Funeral actress Andie McDowell is starring alongside Hollywood hunk Shia LaBeouf as passionate lovers in a red-hot X-rated film.

The flick, created to go with a song written by Margaret Qualley's sister Rainey, was introduced by the singer on social media, along with a selection of screen-grabs from the 10-minute video.

The split-screen shows Margaret, 26, and Shia, 34, embroiled in an intense relationship featuring some particularly raw sex scenes.

Lust

The actors strip off to depict a relationship in the throes of lust, moving on to more tense scenes which show the Transformers actor motioning his fists against a garage door in choreographed rage. Unveiling the video on her Instagram, Rainey wrote: "We made a short choreographed film to represent Love Me Like You Hate Me starring my sister @MargaretQualley and Shia LaBeouf. "Please watch it. It's filled with love and pain and tenderness and rage and real pieces of my heart. Link in bio."

In 2013, Shia starred in Danish smutster Lars Von Trier's see-it-going in flick Nymphomaniac.

Thief leaves his finger at crime scene

A THIEF has been busted after cops found his severed FINGER at the scene of his crime.

Injured Hugh Seeber (above), 50, also left behind his mobile phone and tools at the property where he nicked a log splitter.

The rightful owner of the purloined splitter told police that he found that the sticky-fingered thief had left various tools and other detritus scattered about his driveway.

All the cops had to do was to check local hospitals to see who had come in reporting a misplaced finger.

Detectives found that Seeber had been given a lift to a Methodist medical centre in Knoxville, Tennessee, and asked for treatment for his injury.

From there he was rushed to the City's main hospital, where a cop with the digit found at the scene of Seeber's crime was given to surgeons, who attempted to reattach it to his hand.

He was later quizzed by investigators and arrested for theft.

Sunset-loving lad shot dead by stray bullet

A ROMANTIC watching the sun set with his girlfriend was shot dead by a hunter's stray bullet.

Jason Kutt, 18, was sitting at the edge of a lake when he was struck in the back of the neck.

Kutt's girlfriend told cops she saw a man dressed in bright orange hunting gear standing behind a gate down the road, about 550 feet away, after the shooting.

District Attorney Matt Weintraub said: "They were just a young couple with their whole lives ahead of them trying to enjoy a peaceful sunset. "I believe this was either a tragic accident or a hunter who wasn't hunting the way they were supposed to."

Hunting was allowed at the Nockamixon State Park in Pennsylvania on the day Kutt was shot, authorities said.

SEX WITH EX IS TOP EROTIC DREAM

THE UK's top ten erotic dreams have been revealed – and sex with the ex is men's favourite, according to a new survey.

More than nine out of ten men (92%) revisit past sexual encounters in their dreams, compared to 54% of women.

The second most frequent male dream is when a sex session with anyone goes embarrassingly wrong – 76% of men have had this dream.

In third place was an erotic dream about an orgy, experienced by 72% of men – but it only came ninth on the women's list (26% of women have had this dream).

Fourth place went to sex with a celebrity (68% of men) and in fifth was sex in a public place (59% of men).

The results are revealed in a new survey of 2,000 men and women, split evenly amongst the sexes, by illicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading affairs site.

Women's choices were strikingly different. Their number one erotic dream is sex with a friend (74%).

The second most popular female erotic dream is sex with a work colleague (68%) of women have had this dream.

In third place is sex with a stranger (62%), followed by sex with their current partner (58%) and a dream about their partner cheating on them (57%).

The survey found that 93% of us have erotic dreams regularly – with more than a quarter experiencing them as often as every few days.

More than half of the women polled (54%) said they had dreamt about sex with a gender they are not usually attracted to, compared to 28% of men.

The survey found that 40% of us regularly wake up in the middle of an erotic dream and feel frustrated by not seeing it through to the end.

The overwhelming majority of people (82%) want to have sex as soon as they wake up from an erotic dream.

My scariest movie...

THE first horror film I ever saw was Hostel back in 2005, about two Yank students backpacking across Europe.

They end up in Slovakia where they share a naked sauna, then have sex with two gorgeous local girls.

But the next thing they know they've woken up in a dungeon and there are people getting tortured and bits being cut off everywhere.

It scares the shit out of me, to be honest – but that doesn't stop me watching it over and over again!

JAMIE LEIGH, 25, 32F24-35 FROM IPSWICH

Pervy pensioner Gordon Boon befriended convicted killer Royston Jackson at a probation hostel. It didn't end well...

DEATH OF A PAEDOPHILE

SICK PAST:
Boon was jailed for six years in 2001 for sexual offences against three young girls

IT was a discarded tyre that made the couple stop.

They had been driving down a lane in rural Norfolk, just a few miles from the Bernard Matthews turkey farm, when they spotted the tyre at the side of the road and went to investigate.

But what they found that day in October 2008 was no fly-tipping incident. The body of Gordon Boon had been stripped of its shoes, socks, trousers and jacket and shoved under some wooden fencing panels.

Detectives quickly realised it was a violent murder.

The 73-year-old retired cider factory worker, a father of five, had not only been strangled, he had two black eyes and bruising to his lip and forehead. An arm and a leg had been bound with a ligature.

The victim, as the lingo goes, was 'known to the police'.

In 2001, he was jailed for six years and placed on the sex offenders' register for life after admitting serious sexual offences against three young girls.

He had sexually assaulted one 13-year-old after plying her with alcohol, playing games of strip poker and taking pornographic photos.

There were plenty of people with a reason to hate the pensioner and a few with much sympathy for him.

Not many people mourned the death of Gordon Boon.

Still, Boon's eldest son, Philip, made an emotional plea for information.

Misery

"Even if you can't forgive him, please remember what we are going through," he said.

"We can't ignore what he's done, but nobody deserves to be murdered."

The appeal had little effect – police received just two calls from the public.

Two months after Boon's death, detectives admitted they were struggling to make headway in a challenging investigation. They had several lines of inquiry. Had Boon been killed by vigilantes?

Or had his family been involved in his death?

Boon had made their lives a misery, after all. Surely that was a motive for murder.

As it happened, Boon's family were quickly ruled out as potential suspects.

But the murder was carried out by someone close to him.

Royston Jackson was a 43-year-old turkey catcher. He had been released from prison in 2006, soon after Boon, and the pair met at a probation hostel.

And the reason for Jackson being behind bars in the first place?

Murder.

On a lovers' lane near Dagenham, Essex, on the night of Saturday, April 29, 1989, 16-year-old Stephen Raven was found dead.

He'd been undressed and then dressed again, with his trousers put on back-to-front. He had been beaten, strangled and knifed repeatedly in the groin, then run over by a car.

The violence inflicted on Stephen's young body was so horrific that the trial at the Old Bailey of the man accused of killing him had to be halted because a juror felt sick when shown the photographs.

The man found guilty of murdering Raven so brutally was Jackson, then 23 years old.

Paedophile Boon and the murderer became friends in the hostel.

Seaside

While Jackson was believed to be making good progress, accepting responsibility for the murder of Stephen Raven, Boon was able to repair his relationship with his sons.

He was a private man but not a loner. He watched television with other men in the hostel, played cards and even took trips to the seaside with his new pals.

Boon and Jackson remained friends after moving out of the hostel.

Jackson rented a council house near the University of East Anglia. He regularly visited his mum, who lived in a nearby town, and drifted in and out of contract work, finally finding regular employment as a turkey catcher.

When Boon got his own flat in sheltered accommodation in the centre of Norwich, Jackson helped him move his furniture in.

On Friday, October 3, 2008, Jackson drove from his parents' house just outside Norwich to Boon's flat to collect a DVD.

At 9.30pm, a neighbour saw Boon standing in the sheltered housing's small courtyard.

Moments later, a CCTV camera recorded an image of someone, believed to be Boon, sitting in the passenger seat of Jackson's car as it sped away towards the suburbs.

It was the last image of Boon alive.

When the pensioner didn't call his eldest son as arranged on Saturday morning,

Philip went to his dad's usual haunts – the pub, the newsagent and then his flat.

He shouted through the letterbox and, getting no answer, contacted the police.

Together, he and an officer forced their way in.

It looked like Boon had just popped out – a mug of half-drunk tea was on the side and the TV was on.

But Boon didn't return and, that night, police opened a missing persons investigation.

On Sunday morning, an officer called at Jackson's home as part of this routine inquiry.

Jackson claimed he hadn't seen his friend for at least four weeks.

Boon was found the next day.

It was Jackson's erratic behaviour in the following days that attracted the attention of the police.

First, he frantically scrubbed his car with carpet cleaner before dumping it in a pub car park.

He then went to stay with a cousin in Essex, sleeping rough and exchanging clothes at a charity shop several times.

He seemed adept at covering his tracks – cops found no evidence linking him to Boon's death.

But the net was closing.

Eventually, the broken remains of one of Boon's two phones were found in a park close to Jackson's home.

And despite his best efforts to clean up, forensic scientists found microscopic traces of Boon's blood in Jackson's car.

Dangerous

Fibres found on Boon's clothing also matched those found on Jackson and in his car.

Jackson was arrested for murder for the second time and went on trial at Norwich Crown Court.

He continued to plead not guilty at his trial, despite the evidence against him – and despite his original defence counsel abruptly deciding on the eve of the trial that they could not represent him. After 12 hours of deliberations, the jury found Jackson guilty of the murder of Gordon Boon.

Mr Justice Underhill said: "This was a shocking murder. You are evidently a very dangerous man."

"I am obliged to pass a sentence of life imprisonment on you."

"The early release system will not apply in your case. You will spend the rest of your life in jail."

In February 2018, Jackson contracted fatal esophageal cancer.

On March 7, 2019, he was taken from HMP Whitemoor – the place where he had been held since his second conviction – and admitted to the Thorpe Hall Hospice in Peterborough.

He died three days later. Delivering his verdict at Jackson's inquest, coroner Simon Milburn recorded an outcome of natural causes.

So ended the story of Royston Jackson's murderous life.

GIRL DODGES JAIL AFTER CHOPPING UP HER DAD

A DAUGHTER will not serve ANY prison time for dismembering her elderly dad.

The severed head and other body parts of 73-year-old Benedict Ching were discovered in a fridge. Stephanie Ching, 36, pleaded guilty to being an accessory after the fact and desecration of human remains in the death of her father.

She struck a plea deal with prosecutors for a suspended term of three years in prison in addition to one year in jail.

But she will receive time served for the 17 months she spent in jail, enabling her to be released to begin three years of probation.

Gruesome

Ching's husband, Douglas Lomas, 45, pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter in the case and was jailed for six years.

Cops stumbled across the gruesome scene at Benedict's Ingleside home in San Francisco in May 2019 after a colleague contacted his family to report that he didn't show up to work.

They found body parts, including a severed head in the refrigerator, in addition to a circular saw in his bathtub.

Ching and Lomas were captured with help from Homeland Security agents after they caught a flight to Beijing with their two children.

Prosecutors alleged the couple "exhibited no remorse or concern for the death of the victim and hastily fled to China as family members began to question the victim's whereabouts".

Superior Court Judge Linda Colfax said that Benedict may have been the "initiator or aggressor" – noting he subjected his daughter to abuse "dating back to childhood."

LOVELY Lauren Louise has a thing for men in UNIFORM. But she's not fussy who services her!

The 24-year-old, from Derby, said she gets really turned on fantasising about sex with a soldier or policeman.

Lauren, who boasts a 34D top rack, said: "I dream about being pulled over by a copper on the motorway and he's giving me a right ticking-off."

"Then I suggest there must be some way to avoid a ticket and give him a cheeky wink."

"Next thing I know he has his handcuffs out!"

"And maybe he'd give me a little spank on the bottom with his truncheon!"

"Shagging a soldier is another fantasy of mine - just the thought of all those muscles busting out of his neat uniform."

"You could say I have a bit of a uniform fetish - and I'm happy to do my bit and put on my saucy college girl, naughty nurse or French maid outfit!"

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

I'VE just watched the posh Prime Minister of Great Britain and Northern Ireland telling an interviewer that he doesn't want children to go hungry – “especially at Christmas”.

Presumably, this means that if you're hard up, your little ones can at least survive for the other 364 days of the year on rat carcasses or, if you're really lucky, soil.

It's not the most intellectual observation to conclude that Boris Johnson's premiership really is fked.

His grand plan to sweep into Number 10 and then look down adoringly upon his own empire has truly turned to shit.

This is not how it was meant to be. Once upon a time, Boris was seen as the uplifting alternative to the dreadful Theresa May, the appalling Jeremy Corbyn and that weird but bosom-blessed Lib Dem woman who stood with her legs far too wide apart.

No one was really under the impression that he was as magical as he thought he was, but he ticked the “anyone but Jeremy” box and got an 80-seat majority on the back of it.

Sniffing

Plus, we presumed, he'd at least have a laugh. Which was entirely what Mother Theresa and Jolly-free Jezza clearly never wanted the country to do ever again.

He put the once successful Labour Party back into a little box it hadn't been in since the 1930s and stuck two of his fat fingers up at Remoaners and that weird little bunch of no-marks in the Change Our Name Every Five Minutes Party, who swiftly disappeared in a puff of smoke nanoseconds after the polling booths closed at 10pm on December 12.

But the buck ultimately stops at the man or woman who resides behind the most famous front door in Britain – and there are currently more bucks in Downing Street than there are in Fort Knox.

His Brexit strategy appears to consist of opening the window, sniffing the wind, then filibustering a bizarre 4pm speech that means even less to him than it does to the rest of us.

We still haven't got any sort of Brexit trade deal to speak of, oven-ready or not.

Our southern shores are still being invaded daily by people encouraged to think that applying for asylum and filling in forms is tedious compared to a death-defying – although sometimes not – dinghy escapade across the Channel.

And of course there's the pandemic, which is of course not his fault.

Cock-ups

And we can only wonder how much worse this would all be had Corbyn been at the tiller.

But allowing the health secretary Twat Handjob anywhere near it is clearly the mother of all cock-ups.

Our “test and trace” system for the plague seemingly neither offers tests – unless you a) have a car and b) are prepared to drive 100 miles for one – nor traces anyone.

My phone has told me a few times that I've been somewhere where someone else may have tested positive for Covid-19. But it doesn't tell me who – or where. What's the point?

And then, just when the remarkable Man Utd player Marcus Rashford offers up an open goal for Boris to bang an easy free-meals-for-poor-kids belter into, he instead fluffs the ball up into Row Z.

There are good arguments about not getting taxpayers to pay parents to feed their own kids, but not a single one of them sounds good on TV when everyone feels locked up, pissed off and afraid.

All PMs live on borrowed time. But Boris is only still there because, right now, no one else would touch the job with a barge pole.

Top fireman in mess over nude sushi woman

A FIRE chief's job is under threat after a photo showed him posing with a naked woman who was covered with SUSHI.

The picture was published in a local newspaper, prompting Chief Charles Hood to issue an apology.

Photos showed Hood kneeling next to a flower-adorned table, where a woman laid with pieces of the traditional Japanese dish on her nude body.

In his statement, Hood said: "I attended a firefighter's 50th birthday party in January.

"This photo was taken at the front entrance to the party. I certainly didn't intend to offend anyone, and if I did, I apologise."

Hood, Fire Chief of San Antonio, San Francisco said the pics were taken at "more or less a family event".

He added: "You walk in the front door and there's a sushi lady there that I guess is a business, so I stopped and posed and take a picture. That's it."

Body sushi, or nyotaimori, is the Japanese practice of serving sushi from a woman's naked body.

Drunk Trump fan bulldozes Biden slogans

A DONALD Trump fan stole a BULLDOZER and used it to knock down Joe Biden campaign signs during a drunken rampage.

James Blight, 26, is accused of swiping the machine from a building site and driving it into a neighbourhood, flattening the Democratic presidential candidate's campaign signs in full view of residents.

He told cops when the picked him up: "I've been drinking whiskey all day and don't remember what happened".

Blight was charged with theft and trespassing in Haines City, Florida.

Police Chief Jim Elensky said in a statement: "It's absurd that a grown man could think he had the right to destroy someone else's property based on a difference in political opinion."

MISS SENDS MINGE PICS TO THREE TEEN LADS

JAILED: Emily Edson asked one pupil at school (above) for sex

Chanel phwoar!

INSTAGRAM beauty Chanel Uzi had her army of fans firing on all cylinders when she shared her latest snap online.

The designer-turned-model, 28, wore a sheer top that revealed her gorgeous boobs in all their fullness.

One follower said: "That's why she's called Uzi - because she gets dicks spitting like sub-machine guns! YOW!"

A STUDENT teacher who sent pics of her held-open FANNY to three delighted teen lads has been locked up for four years.

Emily Edson was initially charged in June 2017 with having a nude photo of two students on her mobile phone.

The charges were filed after an investigation prompted by a complaint from the mother of one of the boys who had reported learning of an "inappropriate conversation" Edson had with her son.

Rusty Rives, the police chief in Lamar, Missouri, described the conversation at the time as sexually provocative.

Seized

He said the mother's information led to interviews of her son and two other boys at Lamar Middle School in Lamar.

A search warrant was obtained and Edson's mobile phone seized.

The Southwest Missouri Cyber Crimes Task Force became involved in the case with Lamar police and a search warrant was served on Edson's residence three days after her arrest.

tablet and compact discs were seized at that time. Prosecutor Mike Smalley filed new charges on Edson in February 2019, alleging that she sent nude photos of herself to three male students of the school via an electronic device.

The photos showed Edson naked "with her labia parted".

She also allegedly asked one of the boys to have sex with her several times and regularly spoke to him in a sexual manner, according to affidavits filed with those charges. Edson, 39, pleaded guilty to sexual misconduct.

Judge David Munton caged her for four years.

Dear Bexi,

I'VE had my girlfriend in every hole and she loves talking dirty every time I fk her.

A couple of weeks ago she told me that she had a special present lined up for my 30th birthday – a threesome with her and her fit mate from the place where she works.

They're both 25 and while I fancy my girlfriend, her mate is a right cracker. She's blonde with a perfect arse and big tits.

Come the night, they started to suck me off but my bird's mate looked so horny I couldn't wait to bone her.

My girl was licking my balls as I shagged her pal and I have to admit I was enjoying every minute of her fantastic body as I pounded away for what seemed an age.

But the next day my girlfriend went mad at me because I ended up shagging her mate four times and her only once.

What should I do?

TC, Leeds

Bexi says...

ASK your girlfriend if she's got any more great ideas.

Dear Bexi,

MY girlfriend is obsessed with the Batman films and has bought me a Batsuit to wear when I'm shagging her.

I'm short and skinny, so I look ridiculous in it, but I am prepared to look stupid if it keeps her happy.

One day she said she wanted me to put the Batsuit on, pretend to "rescue" her in an alley and then shag her.

When we got to the alley it was dark, so I started to give her one. Unfortunately, a few people started to leave a nearby pub and their car headlights revealed what I was up to.

Loads of my mates saw me, so my life is now a misery.

What can I do?

SH, Birmingham

Bexi says...

MAKE sure you wear a mask as well next time so nobody will recognise you.

Dear Bexi,

A BLONDE stunner at work recently asked me to pick her up some kitchen worktops.

I told her I would meet her at her house in the lunch hour.

As I was unloading the last of the worktops in her garage I heard the door go down, then I felt her push me against the wall.

She thrust her hands down my pants and pulled out my throbbing cock, which she took greedily in her hot mouth.

I could feel myself coming, so I ripped off her skirt and bent her over the worktop before sliding my dick into her moist pussy.

I gave her a lift back to work and she invited me round in the evening. I asked about her boyfriend and she told me that he wanted to see her getting fked by another man.

Do you think I should go for it?

Bexi says...

YES...as long as everyone is happy!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week BEXI WILLIAMS has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Well-hung home help took care of my wife!

Dear Bexi,

I'M a happily married man with three lovely kids and I've known my wife since we were at college.

Recently she's been struggling with a bad back and we've had to spend a bit more of my wage – I've done OK in the motor trade – getting in some sort of home help.

We're an up-to-date couple and we've read about "nude" cleaning and housework services.

And we often joked about having a woman in a couple of days a week, for me to ogle, and a bloke for her to do likewise.

For months it stayed a private joke between the two of us.

When my wife said she'd arranged for a new home help, I always imagined having a really fit nude woman parading about the house – bending over doing the vacuuming, dishes and toilets.

With me getting up for early work starts and also doing overtime, which meant me getting home late, it was a few weeks before I met the cleaner.

Fiddling

And what a shock I got. The missus had got a youngish student LAD helping her out at home.

She said he was studying to be a child carer and would be able to help us out with our own kids.

But the next day when I sneaked home at mid-day he was there, starkers, doing the chores.

In comes my wife and starts fiddling with his big dick. Then they're at it on the living room floor.

Her back suddenly seemed a lot better as he rammed her hard and fast until they orgasmed.

After that he got her on her back and started oiling her body and massaging her all over.

I slipped away feeling a bit confused and came back the next day to watch a repeat performance.

This time I must admit I found myself getting really aroused and I even had a quick hand-shandy while he had his head between her legs.

I should be angry, but sex is suddenly so much better with my wife.

And now I'm very reluctant to say what I've seen.

What should I do?

GS, Suffolk

Bexi says...

SACK the lad and buy some oils.

Randy students were stars in the bedroom

Dear Bexi,

I'M an amateur astronomer and I love looking at the stars through my expensive telescope.

That probably explains why I don't have a regular girlfriend, but I was out on the town recently when I went into a pub popular with students and got chatting to a couple of 21-year-old blondes at the bar.

They are studying English, so I invited them back to my place and started to show them my collection of books about space.

They didn't seem too interested and one of them gave me a shock by saying: "Stuff the books, we want to shag you."

With that they stripped off and I led them eagerly to the bedroom. I lay back on the bed as they took it in turns to suck my rock-hard cock.

Horny

Then they told me to wank myself as they put on an amazing lesbo show, fingering and licking each other to orgasm.

After that I got into one of them doggy-style as she fingered her mate up the arse.

Since then they have introduced me to some of their horny pals and next week eight of them are coming to my flat for an all-out orgy.

I'm thinking of making a vid. What do you think?

TF, east London

Bexi says...

LOOKS like you may have a new career in porn movies.

Dear Bexi,

I AM a 20-year-old student with a lovely pair of big knockers.

I recently went back to my parents to look after their place while they were on holiday.

They have a big house with a long drive, so I can see people approaching.

I positioned myself naked at a window in front of a mirror brushing my hair.

Out of the corner of my eye I saw the postman stop, unzip his trousers and – only partly hidden by a bush – start wanking.

I ran my hands up and down my body and the postman increased the beat.

Then I deliberately dropped my brush. With my head at knee level, I looked between my open legs to see the postman's face at the window.

I picked up the brush and pushed the handle into my fanny before sliding it slowly in and out.

I could feel my orgasm building and it wasn't long before I shouted out as I climaxed.

At the same time the postie ejaculated over the window.

Am I strange?

CS, Bath

Bexi says...

YES... but the postman won't be complaining.

THE other day I was off work and feeling so bored as I watched my fella have a dull Zoom call with about 20 colleagues... and I suddenly had a very naughty idea.

I thought it would be so hot if I made him cum in front of them all without them even realising.

So I crawled underneath his desk, poked my head between his legs and unzipped his trousers.

I could detect surprise in his voice, which went higher pitched as I began to put my tongue to good use.

But he did manage to impressively regain his composure.

He carried on discussing how his department could help diversify business operations and streamline production operations – albeit with the odd squeak here and there as I licked up and down his shaft and sucked his balls.

I speeded up and brought him close to the edge and then teased him by slowing down again.

I did this several times, then really went for it. It was clearly earth shattering, as he let out a long “ummm” as he told Simon in accounts he’d have to get back to him on his question!

It was very horny – and I can’t wait for him to return the favour when I have an online conference!

SEXY Jessica Moore has revealed that all she wants for Christmas is a bit of girl-on-girl action!

The 34DD stunna says she's mainly into men but really enjoys drinking from the furry cup now and again.

Jessica, 25, confessed she's in the mood for some lady lovin' this weekend.

The Birmingham lass said: "Most of the time I crave men, but now and again I want to be with a woman."

"There's nothing romantic there, just pure animalistic lust - there are some stunning looking girls around and I love the curves of the female form."

"You can't beat big boobs, a slim tummy and a curvy bum, can you?"

"Attraction for me simply comes down to how hot the person is."

"My celebrity girl crush has to be Nicole Scherzinger. She's got an incredible figure and gorgeous eyes."

"I'd love to enjoy a steamy weekend away with her!"

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of nosh as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

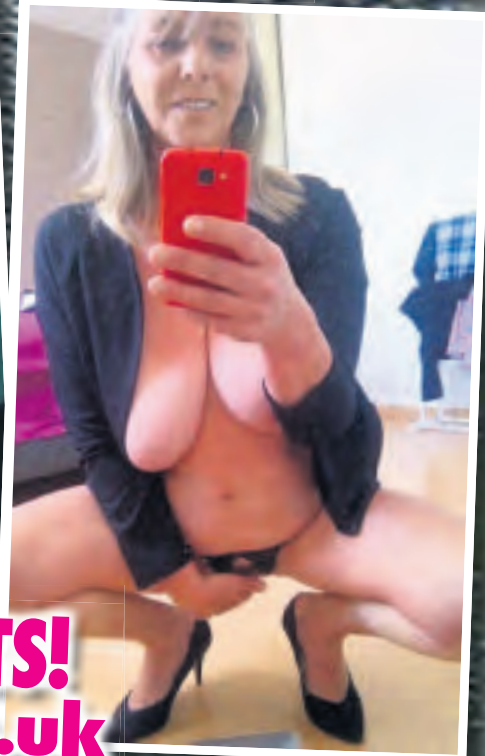

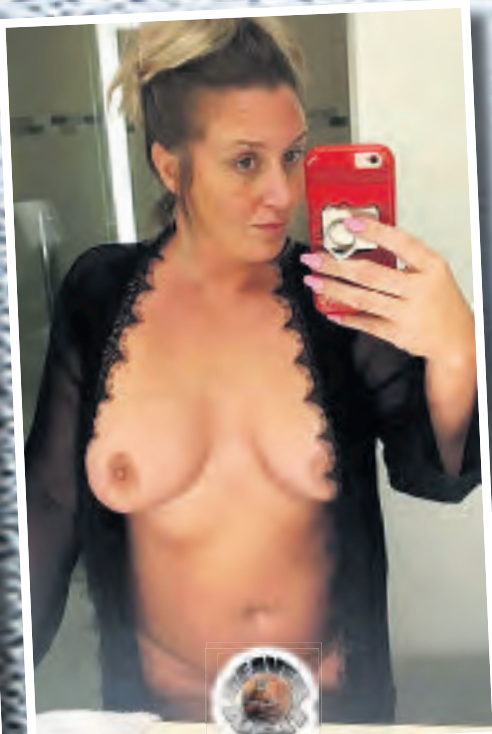

SPECIAL OFFER: ANY 3 PRIVATE SHOPS DVDs FOR £25 (was £75)

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

GINA S

HANDYMAN
Marcus Cooke wrote in asking for a topless snap of stunning Gina S.

Marcus, 23, from Hull, reckons Gina, 28, from Brentford, Essex, is the hottest girl to have whipped out her norks in the Sport.

He said: "She's a real firecracker and gets me going every time I see her 32B boobs in the paper."

"If you could print a photo of her again for me, I'd be really chuffed!"

BEX WHITE

BARMAN Jason Culshaw fancies serving up more than a cocktail to Bex White.

Jason, 47, from Glasgow, says blonde Bex, 30, from Brighton, is a real hottie and he dreams of her walking into his bar.

He said: "I'd be happy to serve her up a Sex on the Beach – but not just the alcoholic version, if you know what I mean?"

"With those 32Bs she'd have me dribbling all over the bar – I wouldn't be able to keep my eyes in their sockets!"

MARINA VISCONTI

DELIVERY driver Kevin Holden turns 50 this week – and, to celebrate, he wanted a sexy snap of Marina Visconti.

Kevin, from Poulton-le-Fylde, Lancs, asked us for one thing – a date with the 31-year-old Leeds lovely.

But as we couldn't quite stretch to that, we've given him a stunning topless photo of Marina flaunting her 34E norks.

Happy Birthday, Kevin – hope you enjoy this snap!

HOTTIE Tommie Jo has a kinky way to keep fit – BUM FUN.

The glamour babe, who boasts 32G boobs, confessed she's a massive fan of anal play.

Tommie Jo, 31, from Romford, Essex, also revealed her fella let her stick a finger up his chocolate starfish.

"I have always been quite good at getting him to try some new things," she said.

"He was really reluctant to do that. Blokes are funny about having their arses toyed with – I think they reckon it will hurt or something.

"But when they want to do something to your bum, it's always 'Nah baby, don't worry, this won't hurt a bit'.

"Luckily, my man doesn't have that problem with me though – because I love a finger up MY arse during sex!"

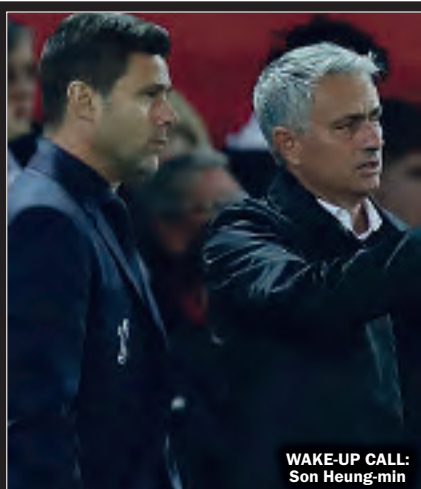

Beautifully put, Tommie Jo.

Poch left major mark on Spurs says Mourinho

JOSE Mourinho says former Tottenham boss Mauricio Pochettino deserves lots of credit for the Londoners' solid start to the season.

Spurs are up to fifth and just two points off top spot thanks to their battling away win at Burnley.

The sparkling form of Harry Kane and Son Heung-min has been a major part of the success.

And Mourinho believes Poch deserves plenty of credit for the way England's captain and the Korean combine in attack.

He said: "It is an understanding that comes from Mauricio's time."

"I don't want all the credit myself, let's share with Mauricio."

"They play together for a long time, probably a different way because Harry is not always a nine now."

"What pleases me more about them both is that they are two top players but close friends, no jealousy, they both play for the team."

Kane has gone on record over his frustration that Spurs didn't kick on last season.

After finishing fourth in 2019 and reaching the Champions League final, there were great expectations at White Hart Lane.

But they slumped to sixth and are not at Europe's top table at the moment.

It looks like that could change if Jose's men step up on their decent start to the campaign.

And Kane believes going and grinding out results at places like Burnley that is more important than the more glamorous matches.

The hitman said: "We know with the team we have got we can do something special."

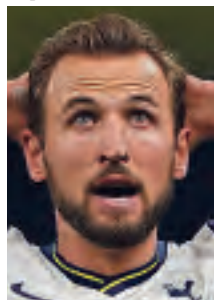

"It's making sure when you come to places like Burnley you are fighting for every point and result."

"To bounce back and grind these results out, these are the results that count at the end of the season."

Kane says Mourinho has made him a more rounded player this season by changing the role he plays.

He added: "When I've dropped deeper this season the wide players have been running in behind and that has given me space to get my head up and play those passes through."

"Maybe we haven't been doing that. The confidence is high, and everyone knows if I get that ball and turn, they have a chance of getting through on goal."

TIMO NEEDS TIME BOOMS LAMPARD

Misfiring £45m striker 'will come good'

FRANK Lampard believes Timo Werner will end his Chelsea goal drought.

By PAUL THOMAS

The £45m summer buy has notched just twice in the Premier League this season and struggled again at Old Trafford against Man United.

That's a far cry from the 35 he banged in for RB Leipzig in Germany last season.

Lampard is keen to point out that it's still early days for the striker and he is backing him to come good.

The Chelsea boss said: "I am very happy with Timo. If you go back to the game before, he scored two goals and Kai Havertz scores a goal."

"I am least worried about the front end of the pitch with the players that we have there."

"It is normal that it will take some time for relationships — for when we have got to put the ball in behind, the ball into feet — clearly these things are going to take time to build."

"The reason we brought Timo and Kai into the club is to add to the quality we already have here."

"Hakim Ziyech is looking like he is getting close to starting a game with his fitness."

"I have no worries about that. It is normal, that happens in football, but I am very happy with the players we have here."

Lampard admits he's still not sure of how to unleash all his attacking options.

He thinks there were lots of positives against United but also plenty of areas where more work is needed.

He added: "The balance of the team is something we are constantly trying to work on."

"At Old Trafford we got into some nice areas in the final third, but didn't have the usual spark that we have seen already from Timo, from Kai already or what Christian Pulisic can do. That is normal."

"I will take a big positive of the fact that we have defended very well. At times we had good control, but we did not have that penetration that we normally have."

Chelsea face a tricky mid-week trip to Russians Krasnodar in the Champions League. After that it's back to domestic action and another difficult away at Burnley.

Lamps is looking forward to the challenge.

He added: "We just need to keep our head on and improve, because we have a lot of faith in the squad. Today shows the basis of being able to keep a clean sheet and show resilience."

"I am less worried relationships at the top of the pitch as that will be down to individual quality and we certainly have that."

United a big price to down Red Bull

BACK:
Greenwood

MANCHESTER United may not be a huge price to beat RB Leipzig tonight but I'm still surprised that the Red Devils are not much shorter.

Betfred have chalked up 13/10 about the home win and that looks pretty big.

United were superb in seeing off Paris St Germain in France last week and can carry on that good form against the Germans.

I suspect the bookies have taken a look at the Bundesliga table and seen RB Leipzig sitting proudly on top with four wins and a draw from the opening five matches.

Don't get too carried away though because the early fixtures have been kind.

Hertha Berlin, Schalke, Augsburg and Mainz are the teams they have taken three points off and it would have been disappointing for a Champions League side not to have won all of those.

They have replaced Timo Werner with Yussuf Poulsen who meets his first big test here having scored three times in his opening six games for his new team.

Angelino will be a threat too with the Manchester City loanee having bagged four in as many outings.

But United should have the edge with boss Ole Gunnar Solskjaer knowing how important success in the Champions League is while his job is seemingly on the line from week to week.

13/10 TASTY AT OLD TRAFFORD

Mason Greenwood should be fresh and available after coming off the bench against Chelsea at the weekend.

Anthony Martial has been banned in the Premier League so is another who should be raring to go.

Throw in Marcus Rashford and the experience of Edinson Cavani and United should have too much.

Keep it simple and back the Reds to win at Betfred's 13/10.

If you're looking for a bigger return, United to win 2-0 is 11/1 while the 2-1 home victory is 8/1.

You could spread your stakes on those two outcomes for a bigger return.

Get your bets on early as Chelsea face Russians Krasnodar.

Both sides drew on opening day but the Londoners should have too much for their hosts.

Krasnodar were a surprise package in the Russian Premier League last season but have made a stuttering start to this campaign.

They have two wins and a pair of defeats heading into this game and sit eighth in the table with a third of the campaign already gone.

They were spanked at home by Spartak Moscow at the weekend while Chelsea were earning a point at Old Trafford.

Frank Lampard's men are in danger of becoming draw specialists with four stalemates and a win from their past five matches.

Krasnodar don't have the same quality as Sevilla who held the Blues to a draw at Stamford Bridge on matchday one.

The likes of Timo Werner and Kai Havertz will be relieved to get away from the Premier League where they are still very much finding their feet when it comes to goals.

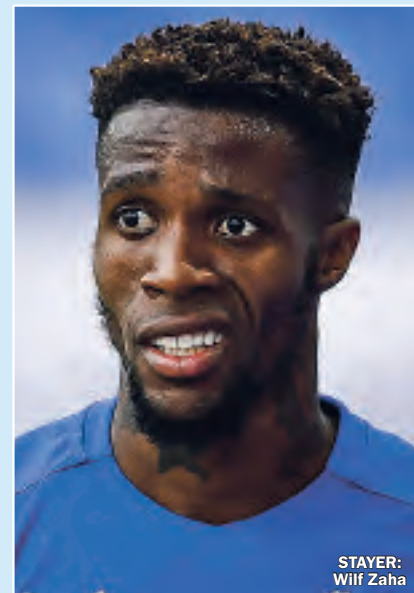

The bookies are giving nothing away in offering 2/5 about the Blues coming away with three points.

So back Chelsea to win and keep a clean sheet which is a 13/10 shot and offers more value.

The 2-0 Chelsea correct score looks the pick of that market at 6/1 with most layers.

ZAHA STARS FOR PALACE AFTER BIG MOVE BLOW

By ANDY MILLOM

WILFRIED Zaha says he's happy to keep playing for Crystal Palace — despite handing in a transfer request.

The Eagles' talisman has been linked with a move away from Selhurst Park for a couple of years with Chelsea thought to be close to a move last year.

Nothing happened on that front, nor when Everton are thought to have come calling in the summer.

Boss Roy Hodgson dropped a hint earlier this season that he wasn't entirely happy with the effort being put in by the Ivory Coast international.

But he was easily the best player on the pitch against Fulham in the weekend win and appears to have put any transfer disappointment firmly behind him.

Zaha said: "I love football so there is no day when I am not enjoying it really."

"I have set myself personal goals and that is what I am attacking every day."

It will be interesting to see if so-called bigger clubs come back for Zaha when the window opens in January.

Top pundit Tony Casciaro thinks the winger should be playing for a Champions League side — and may not have to wait too long until getting his chance.

The former Ireland international said: "Obviously the transfer window came and went and he didn't get his desired move because he wanted a move. He openly admitted it."

"When he played certain games you thought 'Wilf, you aren't kidding anybody'."

"If you want to be at your very best you have to run your socks off and create problems because you are good enough."

"He's one of those players who is good enough to play for a Champions League team. Easily.

ROCKET: Roy Hodgson

"But he's got to be in the right frame of mind. He causes havoc and he runs at teams and he's nearly unplayable at times."

"I do think there's an element that teams do actually feel Wilf was going to be very expensive and you are thinking he's 28 years old and you are going to spend £40m, £50m, £60m for Wilf and then he's 28, 29."

"He relies on pace. Wilf has got a great turn of foot and he can get past defenders."

HAAL OR NOTHING

United to splash entire budget on striker

MANCHESTER United will break the bank to sign Erling Haaland at the end of this season.

The Red Devils are desperate to get their hands on the Norwegian goal machine.

So much so that they will pay Borussia Dortmund whatever it takes to get the deal done. But the Reds know it won't be easy after their botched bid for Jadon Sancho which has upset the Germans.

By JOHN ANTHONY

And Haaland has already snubbed Old Trafford once when opting to join the Bundesliga men in January.

He has proven a massive success for Dortmund with an impressive 23 goals in just 26 appearances since moving from Red Bull Salzburg.

United would love to have a striker of that quality to go alongside Marcus Rashford.

He has a £68m release clause in his deal that comes into play in 2022.

But when that kicks in, every major club in Europe will have their chequebook out.

So United are willing to nip in first — even if that means coughing up a whopping £100m.

To get that cash, they would have to move Paul Pogba on.

He has the same agent as Haaland — Mino Raiola — so there's plenty of scope to get the deal done.
